

Locker Passes Necessary

Miss Montgomery, Dean of Girls recently stated that locker passes are absolutely necessary to go to locker during or between classes. The pass must contain the bearer's name, time and locker number. This rule has been in effect for a long time but recently has not been rigidly enforced. All students having hall chairs are requested to demand hall passes from any student desiring to go to his locker.

BUSINESSES URGED TO BUY BONDS THROUGH CENTRAL

In other South Bend schools students are contacting business establishments and requesting them to purchase war bonds through the schools. This boosts stamp and bond purchases in these other schools.

Central students having contacts with business firms are asked to request that these firms buy their bonds through Central. The student at Central bringing in the most bond applications will receive honorable mention and have his picture in the Interlude.

RECTOR TO ADDRESS SENIORS

Rev. Donald Copeland, rector of the St. James Episcopal Church, will address the Senior A's at the joint Baccalaureate service which is to be held in the Central auditorium Sunday, January 21 at 4 p. m. A glee club comprising students from the four schools will provide the music. Commencement will be held at Central at 8 p. m. on Monday, January 22, for graduating seniors from Central, Riley, Adams, and Washington.

SPARTON CLUB FORMED

A new club has been formed at Central, which has chosen the name of Sparton. The purpose of the club is to take an active part in all school contests and do any service to the school that it is asked. The organizers of the club are Bob Holt, Mort Sweetow, Dan Easton, George Carmon, and Richard Melser. The first regular members are Thursten DeBou, John McGregor, and Bob Campagna, while the other members are David and Russell Reid, Walt Polciack, Brian Williams, Bob McGrogan, and Bob Stanford. There are fourteen members in the club and they have chosen Bob Holt as President and Dan Easton as Vice President. The sponsor of the club is Mr. Richard.

ASSEMBLY PRESENTED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

On Friday, December 1, the Student Council Courtesy Week Committee presented the finale to a week of courtesy in an upperclassman assembly.

John Brademas, president of the council, introduced Dick Cortright, vice-president, and Norma Lu Booth, senior board member, the co-chairmen of the Committee. Dick presented the names of the theme winners including Agnes Haney, first prize winner, who read her theme. Norma announced the poster contest winners as, first, Phyllis Neff, who won $3 in war stamps, Mary Louks, $2, Gene Oppenheim, $1 and Ruth de Mann, honorable mention.

He presented the two outstanding girl members of the most courteous team as Murvil Bothwell and Joyce Jodon, who are in the 12B. Norma presented Tom Pauszek and Bill Maple as the most courteous fellows. Dick then presented the booklet of Courtesy Week slogans to Mr. Pointer, who accepted them as a token of the sincerity which Central holds for courtesy. John closed the program after Rollie Cooper, Virginia Norris and Fred Kiesel, the other committee members, were presented.

COMMUNITY CHEST RESULTS

The results of the Community Chest drive at Central shows the students contributing $252.14 and teachers and employees $940.00, making a total of $1,192.14.

The student contribution is $12.71 short in comparison with last year's figures. However, since many students have left school the students have made a fine showing.

CHRISTMAS SHOW PLANNED

The Amigo and Hi-Y clubs are planning a Christmas show for the orphans on December 17.

They are scouring Central for special talent. Singers, tap dancers and instrumentalists are asked to see Mr. Harter or Miss Ellis immediately.

SEAL SALE STARTED

The Anti-Tuberculosis League's annual Christmas seal sale is on again once more this year. This time a new and different type of sale is being conducted. As each room meets its quota, a piece will be pasted over the space dedicated to it on the large jig saw poster in the main hall. The first room to meet its quota will of course be the first one to get its space covered and as the rooms progress in meeting their quotas, the jig saw will be worked out until the picture can be seen. Besides this race to see which rooms will be among the first to make their quotas and add to the picture, everyone should realize the fine work that the Anti-Tuberculosis League has done to prevent and cure the dreaded disease of Tuberculosis, and that only through generous contributions on the part of each Central student can they continue.

MICKLEY LEADING IN CONTEST

On December 4, the standings in the prom queen contest gave Flossie Mickley a substantial lead for first place, Bernice Wermuth and Evelyn Manuszak were second and third respectively. Ann Dunnahoo, Jennie Arnott, Virginia Grant, Deloris Moore and Jane Barber are other contestants. The contest closes on December 14 at 4:00 p. m. Each cent invested in war bonds or stamps entitles the purchaser to one vote.

WHITCOMB VISITS CENTRAL

Bob Whitcomb, WSBT announcer, reproduced his "Hits and Bits" program during the noon hour on Thursday, November 30, in room 20. It was presented complete with comical commercials, jokes, recordings, to which the noon clubbers danced, and an interview with Dick Kehne, a sailor who recently returned from sea duty in several theaters of war, and has appeared on the "Blind Date" radio program, which is presented coast to coast. After much persuasion, he condescended to sing "I'll See You Again," the song with which he won first prize on the "Stars and Stripes" radio program recently.

ASSEMBLY FOR 12A BOYS

An assembly will be presented for 12A boys on December 14 in room 315. Pre-induction films will be shown to aid the boys in choosing their places in the armed services and to see what is expected of them.

"PHANTOM" TO BE PRESENTED FRIDAY IN EVENING SHOW

HORROR DRAMA DIRECTED BY JAMES LEWIS CASADAY

"The Phantom," by Dion Boucicault, is being presented today as a matinee in the Central auditorium and at an evening performance Friday, December 8. The play is produced by the Barnstormers under the direction of Mr. James Lewis Casaday.

It is a two-act play set in an Arabian castle and the time of the plot covers 100 years. In this weird setting the "Barnstormers" produce the terrifying atmosphere necessary to their play.

Atmosphere is added by a small ensemble off stage. Music has been arranged by Miss Ruby Williams, assisted by June Cox. Amy Lepkowski, Joyce and Jon Gaska. Lloyd Burto, Frances Slack, Miriam Dunkin and Nancy LaMar are on the music committee.

Bears To Play Wildcats And Ft. Wayne Redskins

This week end will be a busy one for the Bears, as they will play North Side, Ft. Wayne on Friday night and on Saturday night they will meet Riley.

The Orange and Blue of Central will be out for revenge Saturday with the memory of the 30-26 thumping handed to them by the Wildcats last year.

On the other side of the fence, Ft. Wayne will also be out for Central's blood as the 42-27 dismantling of the Redskins creeps back into their memories.

Both games ought to prove very interesting for the Bears, as their opponents have rather high class ball clubs.

Cubskin predicts that Central will be victor in both games this week end.

CENTRAL WINS PIN SALE

Central once more won honors in the selling of Anti-Tuberculosis bangle pins at the Notre Dame-Great Lakes game. Marilyn Moore's team, comprising Barbara Eger, Norma Dare, Mildred Shaffer, and Clara Shaffer, came in first, and Nona Frazier's team, Nancy Lamarr, Barbara Briggs, Martha Pease, Donna Howard, Frances Gadomski, Joyce Rea, and Dorothy Grounds, won second place honors. High individual honors went to Miss Moore, with $29.18, and second to Dorothy Grounds, with $20.41.

IS THIS NECESSARY?

In recent weeks many Central students have been the victims of locker robberies. Five coats have been taken. Miss Montgomery and her staff of hall chair guards are cooperating to prevent any further mishaps in the lockers.

However, there is a way of protecting yourself. Things have only been taken from lockers which have no padlocks. Miss Montgomery wishes to make it clear that padlocks are available at hardware stores, and urges each student to purchase one. The small cost of a padlock cannot compare with the loss of a coat, or some other valuable item.

If we all cooperate in every way possible, these locker robberies will be brought to an end.

THINK OVER YOUR AMBITIONS

In the Thurston test, which is required of all 12B's, a question was asked concerning the students' vocational choice. The results proved that the great majority of students are interested in professions and clerical work, whereas experience has proved that only a small percentage of them will ever reach this goal. Only a small number was interested in such vocations as forestry and agriculture, but eventually, a much greater number will be employed in these fields.

This seems to indicate that students do not realize where the best opportunities lie. To be interested in an occupation is one thing, but to have the abilities necessary for success in it is quite another. Now is the time to reconsider, before your education is completed. Young people complain about the lack of opportunity. If their ambitions were better distributed, opportunities would naturally be greatly increased.

CONTROL YOURSELF

Too many of us spend too much of our time in a state of mental uproar. You have all heard students exploding something like this: "She makes me so mad! I just hate her." Usually the victim of this typical comment is a teacher or a student acquaintance. All through life we will be meeting annoying situations and people who don't agree with us in everything. It is time we learned to face these things without arousing a temper. It is a spoiled child who throws tantrums when things aren't done his way.

The Sioux Indians had a saying, "Let me never judge a man until I have worn his moccasins." In other words, you must have an understanding of people in order to avoid making the wrong judgment of them. Remember that you, too, may have characteristics that other people find displeasing.

It is really much more pleasant to be tolerant of people and their habits than to decide you don't like them just because they do things differently. If you really try to understand people, you will soon find it impossible to think of someone whom you hate, because you will no longer hate anybody. The most successful persons are those who have discovered this way of getting along with their associates.

At noon most of us spend a quiet hour in a civilized manner—but not Lois Garnitz—she goes to—ugh—meetings. Drama Club, Board meetings (she's President of same), play reading committee meetings, Speaker's Bureau meetings (she's secretary), and Interlude meetings (she's Feature Editor). Name any other meeting and she'll be glad to go to it.

But don't think Lady Garnitz does nothing but attend meetings. Oh no! Occasionally she studies—five A's on her last report card proved that fact—and when she can spare the time she even eats such things as any kind of chocolate and lovely strawberry tarts. She also takes time out to admire any passing shades of purple. Her favorite expressions are "egad" and "successo."

Fish heads Lois' list of dislikes, but running closely behind are conceited people and those who don't cooperate with the Drama Club.

Speaking of the Drama Club, it manages to keep all 5 ft. 7 in. of Lois busy. La Belle Garnitz recently came in second in the St. Joseph County Anti-Tuberculosis Speech contest and has taken many other honors including a scholarship at Northwestern's summer school of dramatics last summer.

Of course this pen sketch on such a great inspirational character as Lois would not be complete without mentioning her life ambition, which is to appear in a soap box opera.

Though she might not fulfil that ambition, you can count on Lois Garnitz to go far.

WHAT'S COOKIN'?

Well, wet my feet and call me ducky, if it isn't time to get both shoe laces tied and start slidin' out the jive again! And there certainly is money from home in this week's hot-off-the-griddle waxes. First of all, there's a sharp little number with the handle "Don't Fence Me In" on which Central's favorite (according to this week's poll) singer, Bing Crosby, combines his talents with those of the Andrews Sisters to make a real smoothie of a recording. The turn-over is graced by "Three Caballeros."

Vaughn Monroe is back with a neat arrangement of the "Trolley Song," which he teams with "The Very Thought of You," therefore pleasing those who like novelty tunes and those who would rather go sweet and sentimental. And speaking of tastes in music, for all those who really like to hear jive, those solid senders, real alligators, take a look-see at Larry Clinton's "In a Persian Market," one of the best reissues of this sort I've heard.

Glenn Miller, also number one on the Central music lovers' list, has a smoothie vocalized by Ray Eberle called "Helpless." The flip-over is "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" in a special Glenn Miller arrangement.

The Christmas Carol, the famous Dickens classic, has been recorded with Basil Rathbone doing the narration. Everyone is familiar with this fine story of Scrooge and his Christmas, and it certainly will make a nice Christmas gift for one of those people on your list for whom you just can't think what to get. By the way, that reminds me that records are a present that will please everyone, be-

1. Bing Crosby
2. Frank Sinatra
3. Johnny Mercer
4. Ginny Simms
5. Dinah Shore
6. Dick Haymes
7. Frances Langford
8. Helen Forrest
9. Hildegard

EXCUSES

Many people ruin their chances of success in their work or of happiness in their personal relations with others because of the unfortunate habit of making excuses for the non-performance of duty. If they fail at an assigned task, they always have an excuse to offer. No matter what error they make they are prepared to explain it in great detail and to justify themselves. If they are late for an appointment or class they have plenty of reasons to explain their tardiness. They have an excuse for every occasion and are past masters of the art of finding the excuse which will best fit the occasion. Now it is a well-known fact that the excuses and explanations are sometimes justifiable and even necessary. One cannot always foresee what will happen to prevent him from fulfilling his obligations and performing his duties. Under such circumstances one should make the proper explanation and offer his legitimate excuse, but he should do so directly as possible. He should not go into a long repetitious discourse about details. He should not wear his listener out by telling him how very, very sorry he is and how it will never, never happen again.

Hammond Comes From Behind To Edge Out Bears, 35-34

Hugh Dawson of the Hammond Wildcats sunk his fifth basket and a charity throw with 88 seconds remaining in the fourth period of Saturday's game to spell a 35-34 defeat for the fighting Central five. This game proved to be just the opposite of the Bear-Lebanon game last week when, with three seconds remaining in the game Jack Woodard hooped a fielder to beat the Tigers 29-27.

The 20-12 lead that Central held at the half had vanished by the close of the third quarter when Hammond tied up the score 25-25. The Tigers moved into the lead but buckets by Finger, Woodard and Glaser late in the fourth period put the Bears in the lead again by a single point, 34-33. Then came Dawson's one-handed shot.

The Bruins were undefeated until this game, but it was not a conference game. Finger was high-point man, followed by Woodard and Hazen.

Maroons Prove Easy

The hard driving Central Bears thoroughly outplayed the Maroons from Mishawaka Wednesday, Nov. 29, on the Adams floor, and went on to win 42-26.

Coach Stewart's boys hit the whipsnaps freely after an exchange of free throws for the first six minutes of the first quarter. This was the only time Mishawaka held the lead, 2-1.

Woodard and Finger were the big guns in the Bruins fast-breaking attack. "Tuggy" got 13 points and "Bart" hit for 9. Glaser and McCarthy played their usual stellar game of defense while still managing to sink buckets.

South Bend Washington was the only school to get two berths on the first eleven. This was also true of the second team.

Jerry Morrical, who served as left half and acted as captain of this year's edition of Central's football team, secured a position on the second eleven as left half, running a close second behind Washington's Ernie Zalejski. In the honorable mention department were halfback Dick Flowers and tackle Dick Chandonia.

WHAT'S COOKIN'? (Cont'd)

cause there is enough variety to suit every taste. Think that over when you struggle with your last minute list. Seeing as it's so close to Christmas, I want to give you all a Christmas present, and the nicest thing I could think of was to leave out the corny joke in my column, so I hope you appreciate the lack of corn and really are ready for a double dose by the time I pen the column next time. Getting about time to make like a "boid" (amscray to you language students well versed in Pig Latin), so I leave with "Lotions of Love,"

Lois Garnitz.
