McCALLMEN TO OPEN SEMI-FINALS

STUDENT INSTRUCTORS INTERVIEWED

Since there are approximately 20 student teachers from colleges and universities working at Central, The INTERLUDE will interview a different group each week. This week, the teachers visited by The INTERLUDE reporter are from Notre Dame.

Teaching for Mr. John Burger are Mr. Al Kohanovich and Mr. William Wuether. Mr. Kohanovich is a senior at the University of Notre Dame, majoring in physical education. His home is in Hempstead, New York. He likes his classes here very much. When asked why he decided to teach, Mr. Kohanovich's answer was, "I enjoy working with kids." He thinks that South Bend is a nice town (nothing like New York), but it has too many movies. After graduation from college in June, he will no longer be addressed as Mr. Al Kohanovich, but 2nd Lieutenant Al Kohanovich of the U.S. Marine Corps.

Louisville, Kentucky is the home of Mr. William Wuether. He will also graduate in June from Notre Dame with a major in physical education, but plans to become a dentist after taking graduate work at the University of Louisville. Even though Central is probably quite a bit larger than the high school from which he graduated, he thinks the classes here are average. "What do I think of South Bend?" said Mr. Wuether, "I like it!"

Working with Mr. Elmer McCall, are Mr. Adolph "Pete" Kucharczuk from Allentown, Pennsylvania, and Mr. Jerry McClosky, whose home is in Toledo, Ohio. He likes teaching and his classes here at Central, for he likes to work with people of all kinds. After graduation, Mr. Kucharczuk hopes to coach in a senior high school in Allentown. In his opinion, South Bend is a wonderful city, but has several defects which are as he said, "Terrible business districts and poor parking facilities."

Mr. Jerry McClosky plans to teach physical education because he likes sports and children, however, the Marine Corps will occupy his time for a few years immediately following graduation from Notre Dame in June. Mr. McClosky likes South Bend, but of course, being a native of Toledo, he likes that town much, much better. He thinks his classes, which he teaches here 5th and 6th hour, are very good.

Helping to teach classes for Mr. Elbel are Mr. Angelo Turco and Mr. Louis Emerick. Mr. Turco is from Omaha, Nebraska, but considers South Bend as his second home town, for his wife is a former Riley student. He will graduate from Notre Dame in June, a physical education major. He plans to coach football and basketball at a senior Catholic high school in Mississippi. He decided to teach because he thinks it holds a good future for him and he loves it. He likes his classes at Central, but doesn't know as much about the school as he knows about Riley.

Albany, New York is the home of Mr. Louis Emerick, a second semester senior from Notre Dame. As with the other teachers, physical education is his major. His reason for becoming a teacher is that he enjoys coaching (Cont'd on page 4, col. 2)

Seniors Take Volleyball Tourney

The Seniors won the Intramural Volleyball Tournament by defeating the Sophomores 46-32, on Feb. 27, in the girls' gym. With this win the members of the Senior team will have their names engraved on a plaque to be exhibited outside the girl's gym office.

The Seniors, led by Captain Joan Laskowski, were hard to stop. Betty Gnott, Nancy Johnson, Mimi Bradfield, Pat Harms, Marietta Coble, and Phyllis Burger were the other (Cont'd on page 4, col. 4)

McCall Proves Mettle

Central's Man of the Week for the last three weeks has been our illustrious cage coach, Elmer McCall. He has done a marvelous job guiding our young team through tough competition in both the regional and sec-

When Bob Primmer left Central for Ball State, Mr. Pointer wanted to get a man of high calibre and who could produce winning teams to fill the position. We can certainly say he has succeeded. In his one season here McCall has compiled a 15 won and five lost record against some of the toughest competition in the state, in addition to the tournament victories. Our coach is used to winning, as his excellent 105 won and 31 lost record at Ventura Junior College ears out.

A graduate of Fresno State, he took post-graduate work at Purdue before going to California.

The Bears' chances, in his opinion, and as good as any of the other teams. Logansport's "Loganberries." who fell to Central earlier in the season, are taller than we are and have no doubt improved with more games under their belt. He rates the Zionsville-Gary Wallace clash a toss-up with either capable of winning. Mc-Call feels that we have a fair chance to win in event we qualify for the grand finale at Indianapolis. Central dropped games to Anderson and Jeffersonville by only three points and held a decision over the defending champs Muncie Central. This fact indicates that the Bears can successfully compete with the southern powers that usually dominate the championships.

Mr. McCall is 37 years of age and we hope he will be around for many years to come.

Nurses' Club to Meet

The first meeting of the St. Joseph County Future Nurses' Club will be held March 18 at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Northern Indiana Children's Hospital. All students interested in the nursing profession are urged to come.

SENIOR PROM SET FOR MAY

As the school year nears its close, plans are being made for the Senior Prom. The Prom is scheduled for Friday, May 1, at the Palais Royale Ballroom. Tony Pappa and his orchestra will provide the music for dancing, from 9:00-12:00 p. m. Tickets for the dance are $1.50 per couple and one person in each couple must be either a senior or an alumnus of Central, the other member of the couple being no younger than a sophomore. There will be no flowers at the Prom.

The INTERLUDE expresses thanks Colleges Plan H.S. Day are preparing for their annual High School Day which many of the colleges in Indiana will hold soon. Each school has its High School Day on different dates, thereby allowing high school students who are undecided about what school they will attend to visit more than one college or university.

The colleges have these events annually in an effort to allow future college students to visit the campuses and classrooms of the various schools which they plan to attend, or might be interested in attending.

So far, only two dates have been announced for High School Day, March 28, for Purdue University, and April 25, for Ball State Teachers' College. Other colleges will announce the dates of their High School Days later.

While at Purdue, students will tour the campus, classrooms, and laboratories. They will meet members of the staff, Purdue students, have lunch in the residence halls, and hear a musical program to be presented by the Purdue Varsity Glee Club and the Symphonic Band.

afternoon's festivities this Saturday. Logansport, under the able direction of Keith Showalter, has had an off-and-on season, thus far notching 14 conquests in 26 outings. In fact, one of those 12 defeats was administered by the Central Bears, a 64-53 spanking last Dec. 6. Showalter reportedly tabbed the Bears as a strong title contender right then and there. The Berries have not been to final game since the great 1934 squad under Cliff Wells which won over Indianapolis Tech, 26-19. Central, on the other hand, has never won a state championship contest, getting edged by Wingate in the 1914 final tilt, 15-14. The Bears reached the afternoon affair in 1949 only to be smashed by a hot Madison five led by Dee Monroe.

Logansport has defeated such potent quintets as Jasper, Kokomo, Peru, Evansville Bosse, and Anderson among their 14 victims. However, comparative scores give Central a big edge. Logansport holds a victory over Anderson, 69-68 and losses to Muncie 73-67, Anderson 62-47, and Lafayette Jeff 65-48, besides an early season conquest by the Bears. Central beat Muncie 70-67, and downed Lafayette Jeff 66-34, losing only to Andy 70-73. Offensively, the Bears again rate the best scoring - an average of 64.6, while holding their foes to a stingy 50.5. Logansport has outscored their opponents 53.2 to 52.8. Adding the most sweetening to Keith Showalter's Loganberries is 6'2 forward Dave Thomas. Thomas, a senior letterman, has been wearing out scorekeepers' pencils to the tune of over 15 points per game. At the other forward post is another 6'2" boy, Bill Jargstorf. Last year as a sophomore Jargstorf earned a varsity letter. Bill Mull, a 6'5", 190-pound pivot man, has gotten more than his share of rebounds all season long. Mull is currently making his under-the-basket work pay off to

How Are Your Scholarship Qualifications?

It has long been true that a senior isn't awarded a scholarship on the basis of character he has developed in his senior year. He has become a person worthy of the scholarship throughout all the years of his life. No senior leaves school and is hired for a job if he is equipped only with the required skills. He must be a person of the type of personality and character traits which the employer admires and wishes to have associated with his concern. It is too late for the seniors to change the records they have written for themselves, but the underclassmen are standing on the threshold of opportunity.

High grades and financial need are the prime requisites for obtaining scholarship aid, but there are facotrs just as important. The benefactor is interested in whether or not the high grades were obtained by hard work, rather than by cheating. He wants to know how much time and effort the prospective college student will put forth to finance his own education. A student must be a person who has "jelled," rather than one who vacillates between career choices. The student must know where he is going and what path he wishes to take. He must be a complete individual, in respect to a well-balanced personality. His religious practices are important. He must know how to get along with his co-workers and his superiors. He must know how to study; he must be able to evaluate the bids for his time. He must evidence concern for his fellows, and not spend all his time thinking about his own good and bad points. His friends, teachers, and people of the community must be able to give him high recommendations without feeling that he will live up to the expectations later, and that he shouldn't be held to task for his deficiencies now.

A job-seeker and a scholarship applicant needn't be perfect: that is not expected; but, they must be people of strong character habits, well-developed and self-sufficient to a high degree. Those of you who have two or three years left in high school will be wise to consider the facts and their effect upon you and your future.

the tune of 12 points a game. Two juniors, Jay Byers and Jim Ridenour, provide the playmaking from their backcourt positions. Both stand 6'1" and both are juniors. Among the subs who have seen a lot of action are hampered of late due to an ankle injury suffered in the sectional; and Dalen Showalter, 6'3 freshman son of the head coach. The younger Showalter played the last few minutes of the Richland Center regional fracas Harrison Smith, an all-state fullback; Ted Booher, a guard who has been and turned in a creditable performance, dropping in two shots out of two attempts from the field.

In view of Logan's mediocre record many Central fans will be too confident of victory. However, the Berries have a tendency to win the big ones and, too, probably all of Logansport, including Longcliffe, will turn out to root for their team. If Central fans come through and give their confidence a vocal outlet, the Bears should be able to come through,

The second game promises to be a battle of skyscrapers when V. R. Carlson's Gary Wallace Hornets, led by 6'5 Joe Zimmerman, swarm into Al Rosenstihl's Zionsville Eagles, sparked by 6'4 Allen Wharry.

Zionsville pulled one of the prize upsets of tourney play when they knocked off Frankfort's highly rated Hot Dogs, 61-56. It was the first regional triumph for the Eagles in the history of the tournament, Al Rosenstihl had guided his teams to five sectional titles, but never had been able to cop semi-final berth. Wharry, a 6'4 senior who had been cruising along on a 23.5 average, broke all Lafayette regional records with a 52-point spree, 27 of which were garnered against Frankfort. Wharry and two teammates, Bob Carter and Frank Nusbaum, were thought highly enough of by the sports scribes to rate assignments on the Lafayette Courier-Journal's regional squad.

Gary Wallace has risen steadily on the Hoosier basketball scene in the past year with the addition of transfer student, Joe Zimmerman. Zimmerman is playing his first year following his transfer from a non-athletic theological school. Big Joe scored 251 points in 11 Northern Indiana Conference (West. div.) games for an average of 22.8. Zimmerman's best night came against Valparaiso in a late season game when he burned out three nets with a 56-point barrage. Following Joe in the conference scoring race was teammate Danny Alvarez who finished fourth with 167 tallies for a 15.1 mark. Alvarez, a 6'2 youngster, mans the left forward. At the other outside post is Danny Howell, a 6'0 junior. At guards two seniors, Jerry Bardeson and Mitch Kralis, have been the boys who Coach Carlson gives much of the credit for the Hornets' success on the basis of Sports, teas, train trips, banquets, and just plain fun - that's G. A. A. Central's Girls' Athletic Association sponsors not only sports for girls, but social activities, also. They hold three banquets a year; a football, basketball, and a G. A. A. banquet. They have teas and parties and even take over-night trips. An example of their fun is the time the girls mixed sports, social fun, and a trip together when they went to Kendallville by train for a volleyball game.

Following the game, there was a pot-luck dinner held in their honor. The evening was completed with a movie. Now the G. A. A. is planning to invite eight girls from five other schools for a play day, free swim, and luncheon. They enjoy meeting and playing against other teams. It makes new friends for them and creates a better feeling between schools.

Now let's get back to the sports program which includes: Tennis, table tennis, vollyball,, volleyring, basketball, tumbling, swimming, softball, and boxing.

Miss Betty Mathews is the girls sponsor and told us that G. A. A. promotes interest in all sports and activities, as well as helping the girls gain social poise. She says the reasons for their four successful years of volleyball is that the girls follow instructions and work as a team as they do in all G. A. A. undertakings. This large school club is open to all girls from the ninth grade to the twelfth. Next year Miss Mathews is hoping to start a G. A. A. for seventh and eighth grade girls. By the way, the G. A. A. picture which appeared in last week's INTERLUDE represented only the G. A. A. volleyball team and not the entire membership of the organization as had been indicated.

Who are the G.A.A. officers? Nancy Johnson is president of the club. She is a senior A from home room 12. To get down to "bear" facts Nancy is 5'3", let's skip the weight, she likes pie, shrimp, and Latin-American music. Her dislikes include opera and people who don't say "thank you." "G. A. A. is the best at Central and it creates many lasting friendships," says Nancy. After graduation she wants to go to Western Michigan College and take occupational therapy.

Vice-president of G. A. A., a senior, 5'9", 130 lbs., and a member of home room 304 is Betty Gnott.

Betty has one dislike-false friends, and more likes than we can remember. Some of them are Rosemary Clooney's records, fried chicken, her cocker spaniel who watches television, softball, and G. A. A. of course. Betty plans to take further business training after graduation or perhaps continue playing softball which she had to give temporarily up two years ago because of an injured back. Joan Laskowski is the secretary of G. A. A. It seems Joan like fried chicken, cherry pie, popular music, and volleyball best of anything. She does not like conceited people. Joan says she enjoys G.A.A. because it is a club open to every girl regardless of her race, creed, or color. She thinks Central is great, too, with all its fine teachers and "extra-special" kids. Joan wants to go to Ball State and study to be a physical education teacher. She is a senior from home room 318.

G. A. A.'s treasurer is a sophomore from home room 206. She is Alma Smith. Alma likes many things but reading, writing, and listening to the radio head her list. When it comes to menus, fruit and vegetables are a "must" for her.

Mimi Bradfield is next on the list of officers. She is the point recorder for the club, a 12A, and a member of home room 305. Mimi is 5' 51/2" and has blond hair and blue eyes. She is "crazy" about butterscotch pie and classical music but turns thumbs down on conceited people. Mimi is quite a busy gal - with Glee Club, band, water ballet, and G. A. A. She wants to go to Ball State and study Home Economics.

Pat Lagen, a junior from home room 106, is our last but not least capable (Cont'd on page 4, col. 1)

VERIE SAUER SAYS:

Under the clock conversation centers around . . . the regionals; we have some people complaining about permanently cramped fingers caused by having them crossed all last week . . the Central-Washington-Clay game and the three latest additions to the Central record book . . . the recent revised pep assembly; everyone seems to agree that the teachers deserve many laurels for a hilarious performance . . . foreign languages: if you listen carefully under the clock you'll hear a smattering of Greek, French, and Italian being batted bcak and forth by some strictly American people . . . embarrassing moments: trying to explain to Mr. Richards why you have your coat on while roaming the halls . . . plans for the student council election race, seems we have some people that really believe that the early bird gets the worm . . .

Something new: Bev Carlson and Dick Hogan??

Seen quite frequently together in the halls between classes: Lucy Simon and Jack Quiggle. Verie wonders if this could be the beginning of a new combination?

Attention girls: Terry Riorden and John O'Brien are on the loose!!

A couple that we'd like to see a lot more of: Joanne Badowski and Ray Hayes.

Date of the weekend: Dort Daniel and Bob Babcock.

Love is one game that is never called off because of darkness.

Who is it that Joanne Beahm looks for after every first hour? Could it be Danny O'Donnell?

Verie is glad to hear that the steady couple of Bruce Mock and Joanne Herrin is back together again.

Joe Tirotta, for your ardent fans, who is it going to be-Chicago, Lafayette or New Carlisle?

Steady combo: Mary Ann Wilson and Paul Szymanski. * * *

Forever and ever: Janet Case and Bill Cole.

Flash announcement: Connie Prather wants everyone to know that she and Rocco Simeri have been going steady exactly one year, as of today! Congrats!!

Could it be that Bonnie Palmiter and Phyllis Petersen have interests at N. D. now? Verie would like to know more!

Aunt Verie hears that Marcia Milliken is steadying it with an N. D. student! Congrats, Marcia - what's his name? * * *

In the steady spotlight: Terry Botteran and Ann Mathews; Nancy Beebe and Glenn Hicks; Joyce Hutson and Bob Kissel.

Newest mystery: Who is the girl Tom Bartholemew has been seen with at the resent games??

* * The lads at the corner drug store were exchanging stories about their experiences with the opposite sex. "Aw," sniffed one, "girls are a dime a dozen."

"Gee," sighed a younger lad, who had remained silent until now. "And all this time I've been buying jelly beans."

Rumored to have a date for the Bunny Hop: Sue Charlesworth and Jim Defuros.

Isaacs and Jack Baney; Jim Shedd and Janice Day.

Still on the steady list: Mary Ann

Sally Mead seems to have an interest out Adams way!

Carolyn Dorstch: has a certain "Richie" come into your life?

What's this we hear about Miss Ceyak and "a fellow from Elkhart"?

Something interesting here: Duane Witham and Cynthia Ferneld.

Seems that Charolette C. and Kenny A. have a lot to talk about these

Hayride dates: Jerry Williams and

Bruce Dunfee. Could Terry Gumz possibly be

BELLES ON THEIR TOES By Frank Gilbreth Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey

A sequel to Cheaper by the Dozen this fresh and humorous book relates the further life of the Gilbreths minus "papa."

After Frank Gilbreht's death, Lillian Gilbreth filled the place of mother, father, and family provider. Her wise guidance of each child to a mature and responsible adult life, fills the book with warm sympathy and realistic situations.

The twelve lively and assorted members of the Gilbreth family (this book is written by two of them) supply high humor with their antics. A mass epedemic of chicken pox and a trip en masse to Newark to outfit the family are typical of the mirth provoking incidents.

An appealing account of the joys and sorrows of life in a big family, Belles on Their Toes is a must on every leisure reading list.

WARNINGS

Poor work slips were sent out this week. About one-third of our students will receive one or more. These slips are a warning that unless the students work improves he will fail.

Most of these notices could have been avoided. A little more effort on the part of many students could have made these unnecessary. The habit of doing poor work will grow on one and carried over into adult

The best measure of ones attitude and ability to do a job later is how well he did his work at school. Business organizations and higher institutions of learning say this is the best indication of what he will do once out of high school.

I wish it were possible to get every student to do his best at all times and avoid failure. Every student owes this much to his parents and to society in general. To fail should be discouraging and besides it is very expensive.

BEARS WHIP TROJANS, 68-49 BEAR FACTS WHICH has been said about the ac-

BRUINS SNAP NORTH WEBSTER'S VICTORY STREAK AT 27

By JOHN PETERSON

North Webster's small but scrappy Trojans threw a scare into Elmer McCall's Central charges in the first dozen minutes before succumbing to the classy Bears 68-49 in the final game of the South Bend regional last Saturday. The Trojans had not tasted the bitter pangs of defeat in 27 previous games this season, although most of their wins had come at the expense of small, unheard of teams.

For the Bears it was the first regional triumph since 1950 when the Bears got to the semi-finals only to have Lafayette Jeff eliminate them in the final game, 55-52. It also marked the seventh victory in the last 13 years for the Bears.

The Orange and Blue win was almost effortless once the Bear machine rolled into full gear. With the score 21-18 in favor of the country boys, Paul Harvey eased in an outside shot from 26 feet out and then uncorked a jump shot to shoot the Bears out front to stay 22-21. The Bears didn't mean to let up however, as Tom Schafer pilfered the ball for an easy lavin and Emery Molnar pushed one in from within the foul lane. Emery was fouled on the play and dunked in his gift shot. Harvey pushed another two points through the hoop, before Daryle Hill could counter for the Trojans with a semi-screen push shot from 15 feet out. Harvey came through with a field goal and Molnar contributed a free throw to create the haftime margin of 32-23. The McCallmen scored at will in the second half as they coasted to a 68-49

The Bruins connected on 25 out of 53 attempts for a .471 average and the Trojans were slightly cooler with 17 out of 53 for a .320 showing. Paul Harvey led the Bears with 19 netters followed by Tom Schafer, Emery Molnar, and Jack Quiggle, with 14, 13, and 11 respectively.

Grapplers End Season with Win

By JERRY KLEIN

The Culver Military Academy wrestlers were the ninth victim of the Bob Jones coached boys. The Bears won the meet by a decision in the last bout. It was a tie score, 22-22, and Bob Pauszek pulled it out of the fire. Summary

Coach Bob Jones loses three seniors while getting back around 16 boys with considerable amount of varsity action. The three boys who placed in the state are in line to be back next season. The losses will be John Eichorst, Bob Loy, and Dale Sigrist. All went down state but failed to place. Next year is the year for the Bear grapplers. They have already set up a pattern for a state

BEARS BUMP BLAZERS

A crew of tourney-hot Central Bears shot their way into the finals of the regional, Saturday, by dumping the Blue Blazers of Elkhart

The frigid Elkhartmen found the going rough and hit only one field goal and four foul shots in the first quarter for six points while Central caged five of nine attempts and took a 10-point lead, 16-6.

Paul Harvey sparked the Bears with 12 points in the first half while his mates were compiling a 52 per cent shooting average sinking 11 of 21 shots. Meanwhile, Elkhart had still not found the range hitting only two field goals the second quarter. When the gun sounded ending the red-hot first half, Central had lengthened it's lead to 31-13.

Coach Bill Millner sent Doyne Glassburn in during the third quarter to replace Erich Barnes at the pivot spot. Glassburn and Dick Lough, guard, were the two first-stringers benched by leg injuries suffered during sectional play. The loss of these two men undoubtedly hampered the Blazers' attack. Lough, who didn't see action at all, was replaced by Boyer who contributed four field goals before leaving the game on fouls. With Glass burn and Ron Lucas collaborating on the rebounds Elkhart started to move and whipped in 16 points in the third quarter compared to their 13 in the first two stanzas. Central was outscored 16-11 but kept control with some accurate shooting from the charity stripe. Overall they sank 25 of 35 attempts.

A 25-point outburst in the last period capped the contest for Central and set the victory margin at 14 points. This was the visitors' third defeat at the hands of a South Bend foe this season and set their final record at 20 won, 5 lost. Central edged them 67-65 three weeks ago while Washington turned the trick at mid-

Much has been said about the actions of Central fans at the games. Opposing coaches have denounced us publicly on TV, and some fans from other schools have followed suit. To Cubskin's eyes, the Central fans have committed only one misdeed, and that occurred when a few Centralites giggled during the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. The student body didn't sound like "Met" veterans, that is true, and we doubt the wisdom of the tourney officials in asking an excited group of teen-agers to become serious in such a short time, but still Central High should not be represented by a thoughtless few. Let's watch our self-discipline.

Fans showed the wonderful spirit of enthusiasm which has contributed so much to the greatness of former Central team. Contrary to the opinions of a certain southside high school coach, the Bear fans were by far the best behaved of all the city schools. The majority of sectional coaches did not show poor sportsmanship by exhibiting sourgrapes because they happened to be defeated.

There is little excuse why at least 75% of the Central student body should not show up at the semi-finals this Saturday. Central has been allotted 2,175 tickets and Principal P. D. Pointer has announced that as many buses as are needed will be on hand to transport students to Purdue.

Culver Edges Tankers

By TERRY PLUNKETT

Coach Tom Hoyer's splashers were edged by Culver, Wednesday, by a score of 34-32. This is the closest a Central squad has ever come to winning during swimming competition with the Cadets.

Leslie Lobaugh finished the season with a perfect mark of no defeats while copping two victories in every event. Dave Doty did likewise in diving with one exception in the state

The loss coupled with a victory over Kalamazoo last week set the final record for the season at 11 wins 4 defeats. Horace Mann accounted for two of those defeats while Whiting and Culver were the other victors. In the conference tilt the Bears tied for second with Hammond and finished third to the same.

their superb feeding of Zimmerman. Wallace should have too much overall strength for the game Zionsville club. If Central and Wallace should survive the afternoon contests it would be a battle not only for that all-important trip to Indianapolis but for the Northern Indiana crown, since both teams were winners in their respective divisions.
