Mina Jean Miller, a senior A of home room 121, has been informed that she is one of the twelve finalists in the state of Indiana in the Pepsi-Cola scholarship contest. From these twelve finalists two will be awarded scholarships which provide tuition in any college in the United States for four years plus transportation and living expenses.

Gilmour, McCarthy Speak

The final results of the county debate tournament were known after Central participated in the last contest of this affair, after dinner speeches. After the dinner held in the Johnson Tea Room David Gilmour and Betty Lou McCarthy each gave a five-minute after dinner speech. The decisions of the contest will be announced next week.

Leading by five points in the tournament, Central is followed by Riley who has five points less and Mishawaka who has ten points less. If Central wins the entire contest this year, which will be the third year for doing so, then she will be entitled to retain forever the forensic league plaque that now hangs in the main hall indicating these victories.

Jones Becomes Football Coach

TO BE ASSISTED BY
DAL SASSO AND NASH

CROWE AND WEGNER
TO COACH ADAMS

Principal P. D. Pointer has announced the major changes to occur in the Central football coaching staff for next year. Mr. Bob Jones, recently returned from the armed forces, will become head football coach for next fall, a post which he held before he entered service. Assisting Coach Jones will be Mr. Chris Dal Sasso and Mr. Jack Nash.

Present Coach Jim Crowe will become head coach of the Adams football team and he will be assisted by Mr. Irvin Wegner, also of the Central faculty and coaching staff. Although Coaches Crowe and Wegner will take over spring training at Adams, they will remain to finish their semester teaching duties here at Central.

ROBERT JONES

Regarding the coaching record of Jones before he entered the military services the records show that his teams won seven games in each of the four years he handled the team and in the last year his squad took both the Eastern Division title as well as the conference championship.

MOVIES ANNOUNCED

The noon movie schedule for the next month has been announced by Assistant Principal Richard. Next week a series of short subjects, which usually consist of comics, news shorts, or featured material, will be shown; the following week there will be no movies because of spring vacation. On March 25, 26, and 27 "The Return of Jimmy Valentine" will be featured and the following week will show short subjects again.

ELECTION POSTPONED

The election of Student Council officers for next year, which was intended to occur at the end of this month if city voting machines could be obtained for that purpose, was postponed in the meeting because the representatives thought that that time would be too early. The election of the officers will be held next May at the usual time, therefore, and the formation of the parties will come later. Anyone interested in forming a party to nominate candidates is free to do so and should notify the Student Council of his intention and for particulars.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations from Centralians are being offered Senator Crook of X-17. The Senator became a grandfather last week.

140 STUDENTS EXCUSED

The front office has released figures showing that one hundred forty students of Central are excused from school either sixth hour or all afternoon to work part time this semester.

CENTRAL ACQUIRES RADIO

Assistant Principal Merlin Richard has announced that in the possession of the school is a portable radio to be used by any class in connection with its work. Already dramatics classes have used the radio to listen to operettas, the music departments for various musical programs, and the science classes for scientific lectures. Anyone wishing the use of the radio in connection with his classwork may obtain it by requesting it from his teacher.

CENTRAL STUDENT FOR CIVIC AUDITORIUM

Editor's note. The article printed below is reprinted from the South Bend Tribune of February 28. Five other Central students will have articles printed in the Tribune on similar subject matter in the near future. THE INTERLUDE wishes to commend Tom for his enterprising ideas and for his civic spirit.

Young people of the city who think of its progress and its future are taking an interest in the endeavors to give South Bend a suitable auditorium at the earliest possible moment according to Thomas Brademas, 513 West Marion street, an energetic student in the Central Senior High school. He is manager of the Barnstormers, an organization of students which finds pleasure and profit in devising and producing plays.

"We young people realize that one of South Bend's greatest needs is a properly planned and substantially constructed auditorium," said Student Brademas to a representative of The Tribune. "Just how far this realization exists among South Bend young people I cannot say but I know it is the feeling of the student group with which I am associated and I also know we would like to do something to help if we are told what it is.

Know City Is Losing

"We know South Bend is losing much because we do not have an auditorium. This loss not only will continue but will become greater as time passes. We would like to see more action. We visualize the many uses to which such a structure can be put for the great benefit not alone of the residents of St. Joseph county but of the large South Bend area.

"We know we are missing great values in education, religion and general entertainment that would come to us with the presence of an auditorium. Because we are young is not a reason why we should not be interested in our city, in our county and in the wide territory which can be so easily and so generally served from South Bend.

"We young people may not be in a position to contribute much financially toward the building of an auditorium but we are willing to do anything within our means and general capacity to make the auditorium proposal a complete success. We young people have an earnest desire to be of service to our city. Give us the chance and we will make good."

BARNSTORMER CAST REVEALED

The Barnstormers, under the direction of Mr. James Lewis Casaday, will present the supernatural thriller, "Dwellers in the Darkness," in an assembly at Central at an early date.

Members of the cast have been selected and include the following, Gloria Hans, Nancy Seaver, Lorraine Keyworth, Carolyn Emmett, Ruth DeMan, Nancy Magiera, Charles Budd, Russell Lindholm, Arthur Gau, Bill Peterson, Ernest Zick, Everett Potter, and Jerry Post. This will be the last Barnstormer production of the current school year. Committees for the play are as follows:

Nancy Seaver will serve as Costume Chairman. In charge of Props will be Dan Boyd. Kenneth Hawthorne and Sandy Stutsman are co-chairmen of the Lights Committee. Sets will be done by Allan Kester and Bill Ludders. Tom Brademas is Production Manager.

CENTRAL LOSES TO KNOX

The Central debate team lost all chance of participating in the state debate contest when the debate team of Knox defeated both the Central affirmative and negative divisions to win the district championship here last Friday. On the previous Wednesday Central defeated both teams of Nappanee in the district contest. The two losses to Knox and the one defeat by Laporte cancelled Central's hopes for a state championship this year. However, in the five years Central has participated in these district debates they have been victorious in three of them.

Council Petition Submitted

Last Monday the Student Council submitted a petition for signatures of the senators recommending that all home rooms of upperclassmen now located in the junior building be moved to the senior building. The petition followed an investigation of students and teachers concerning their opinions on this question. Results of the petition will be made known later.

BASKETBALL TICKETS

Criticism has been unduly given the sale of tickets for the basketball tournaments during the last two weeks. For the information of those who have issued such criticism, the bleacher tickets were put on sale for those who were first in line at the ticket window.

All tickets were sold in succession; bleachers to students; mezzanine and balcony to adults. Anyone who secured seats out of this category, bought their tickets after the original sale at the ticket window.

ENJOY OUR MUSIC FESTIVAL!

Central backed the revue whole-heartedly, and when a Music Festival rolls around, it should not be given the cold shoulder. The Festival tonight will have catchy, lyrical songs, just as the revue had. All it lacks is the thin coating of plot which covered the revue.

A festival is a time of joy and celebration. We can all have as much fun at the festival as we did at the revue.

WE'RE PROUD OF HIM

True, "Perky" was fouled out in the last quarter of the Elkhart game, but his fellow-players and the audience were not thinking of his fouls. They thought of his true sportsmanship, his spirit of playing.

"Perky" left the floor with the honor and esteem of the whole gym. He was a good loser that we may all be proud of.

THANKS, DEBATERS

And now, Centralites, the debate season is just about over for our team. That championship that we were going to win sort of slipped by us this time. However, we'd like to congratulate the debate team on the fine job of debating that was done. You can be sure that those Knox debaters who won the district championship had to meet some very good arguments from our team. We may be justly proud of our team because we were well represented by them. With a little more support from us next year, you may be sure that Central will be State Champions.

"DO UNTO OTHERS—"

It seems that it has been necessary to block off along the sidewalk the Adams High School lawn and at times station an officer there to prevent any student of any school from running across the lawn, particularly at basketball games. Central students are included in this group and during the basketball season this year Central students have been requested by the police there not to walk on the lawn. If we go to our games at Adams, certainly we should willingly try to co-operate with that school to keep their lawn nice. Let's start next year, all of us, to help take that barricade away from Adams by our orderly conduct there and keep from walking on their lawn.

ON THE RECORD

Certainly the weatherman had everyone's interests at heart last weekend even if the Elkhart boys didn't and it is hard to decide whether to be sad or glad. If one can be both, then that is the attitude to take. I've almost decided to stay in this town for a few more days anyway. The weather we did have had me convinced that there is only one good way to go in this world. Straight south. Tommy Dorsey and his crew take over the town for a one-nighter the 10th. Tommy hasn't done too much waxing lately, his best new release being "Chicago" which is a good showing of the Sentimentalists, the singing group with him. Hal McIntyre leaves the Windy City to come to our town for a stage show soon also, so I guess we are pretty well set up for the present.

After a critical evening spent a week ago on my choice in good records I am a little bit dubious as to my tastes in records. I am a broad-minded sort of a soul most of the time and it didn't affect me right away. But it got me to wondering if maybe I wasn't a little bit off on what to suggest to the fair-haired ones that would come closest to meeting with everyone's approval. So, this week I shall ask some number of people to name their three records that they value the most and they will be suggested to you with the taste of the average record collector in mind. This may prove something and then again it may not. Who knows?

I'm still pulling for Bing Crosby and his two new Irish lullabies that he has recorded in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. "Dear Old Donegal" and "McNamera's Band" are typically the Crosby manner and certainly are examples of an easy going way of singing that only one man can duplicate. The coming Crosby is Perry Como. (That is only an opinion.)

The Elkhart boys were a bit lucky. Central had a fine season and did a good job in their post-season games in quest of the State title. You can show your spirit and congratulate your team at the Comet's Basketball Banquet the 1st of April.

—Ned MacWilliams.

We'd like you to meet one swell gal—Virginia Norris. She's 5'4" of personality-plus, with big blue eyes and brown hair to top it off.

Definitely not lethargic, Virginia is vice-president of the senior class, president of the Amigo club, secretary of the Student Council, and has been a valuable member of the varsity debate team for the past two years.

Virginia likes the color blue, bowling, talkative people, and people who do what they say they'll do. Virginia who is very dependable and straightforward, dislikes people who are always late, social climbers, homework, and being broke. What really erks Virginia is muddy weather when the slush splashes above her boots.

Virginia plans to do missionary work, for which she is well-fitted with her sympathetic nature and capacity for energetic service. Good luck, Virginia, we know you'll fulfill your ambition.

YOUR PLACE This semester is almost half over. Grades will be given in two more weeks. Many of you are doing your best. Others are not working up to their capacity. Many will make excellent grades and are working hard toward that end. Others will be satisfied with mediocrity and some will fail because they do not choose to do what they should and could do. Failure or success in school or after life rests with the individual. It is a matter mostly of choice. Initiative, work and the will to do determines our goals. Some do not have the ability to stand at the head of their class. Others who stand near the bottom have the ability to do much better. Wherever you are, at the head or at the foot of your group, let your place be determined by your ability and willingness to work, not by laziness or indolence. Assume the place which is commensurate with your ability.

WEAKNESS AT FREE THROW LINE SPELLS DEFEAT

The Central Bears ended their basketball play for another year in a rather heart sickening way when the Elkhart Blue Blazers skimmed past the Bruins, 37-33, in the second game of the South Bend regionals last Saturday afternoon in the Adams gym. Just three years ago the Blazers knocked another very good Bear team out of the running.

The Bears tossed in three baskets and held the Blazers from collecting anything from the floor but were tied at the end of the first stanza, 6-6. Elkhart reaped free throws. In the second period Elkhart took the lead, making the intermission score, 18-15. The third quarter was a hot one. Perkins and Ring hit to put Central ahead. But the lead was constantly changing hands. Ring kept the Bears in the games during this quarter and were behind only one counter at its end. Central's inability to hit from the charity stripe cost them the contest. They made more baskets than the foe but made good on only three of the twelve free throws. Hysteria reigned in the final minutes and the final whistle saw the score, Elkhart 37, Central 33.

BEAR FACTS

Now that the 1945-46 basketball season at Central is over, let's cast eager eyes on the 1946-47 cage season prospects and see what may be in store for the Central Bears. Johnny Wooden will have back a flashy defensive and offensive guard in Jerome Perkins; a potential scoring champion in guard Gene Ring; a player with the needed height, Jensen; a forward with a sharp scoring eye, Dick "Posey" Flowers; and George Clauson who can round out into a nice ball player. Also there will be Woltman and Lawton from this year's varsity squad, which means that eight of the twelve men on Central's hardwood team will be playing again next year.

P. S. Don't forget about three or four of the B team boys who may have a chance to be moved up to varsity positions. Oh yes, there is good news tonight.

COACH CROWE who will take over football at Adams.

It's a mighty good thing for Elkhart's Blue (after losing the regional championship to Culver) Blazers that Central was in its worst form at the free throw line last Saturday afternoon. The refs did a lovely job of calling fouls — on Central. Cubskin hesitates to say it, because of obvious reasons, but after watching the officiating in both the afternoon and evening games it looked an awful lot like Elkhart got a good many breaks. Many nonpartisan spectators feel much the same. It's only natural that a fast breaking, fire wagon team will make extra fouls but Elkhart plays a rough game too. Only 18 fouls were called on the Blue Blazers in the entire tourney.

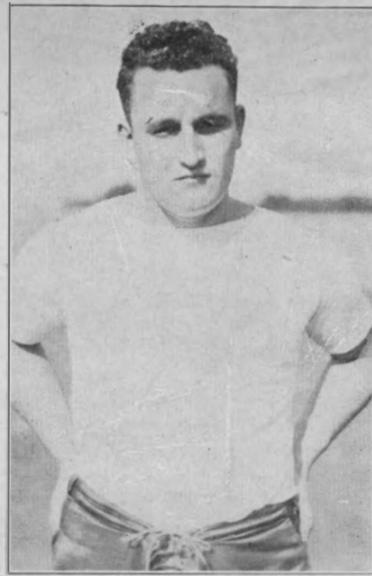

To you, basketball men of Culver, Central wishes you all the luck possible. A hearty backslap for taking the overconfident Elkhartans, and a sincere hope that you may be blessed by the good officiating that usually comes with the semi-finals. Show the rest of Hoosierdom that the best of teams come from up north. Too bad you have to tackle a still more northern foe in your first battle. We suggest that you turn back and read Dave Gallup's column, "Tipoff," in the Sunday edition (last) of the South Bend Tribune if you missed it.

Cubskin had a chat with Carl Zahl of New Carlisle at the regional and believe you me I think he is deserving of every bit of the publicity which he received for his fine showing in the sectional play.

Cubskin wishes to say that he thinks the support of Centralians at both the sectional and regional was most commendable.

At the beginning of second hour last Monday morning the fire drill committee of the Student Council, under the chairmanship of Robert Ott, sponsored its first fire drill here. According to Principal P. D. Pointer, students left the building in approximately two minutes and he said that the fire drill went off better than usual. A committee was organized of Student Council members to be stationed throughout the school at doorways and stairways to hasten effectiveness and eliminate unnecessary carelessness. The members of that committee are: Audrey Chause, Bob Ivy, Bill Kline, Bob Reinhold, Wilmer Christian, Don Looten, and Ned MacWilliams.

SPRING FEVER BY FRANCIANNE IVICK

"Duck, kids, it's March 7th, and spring is just around the corner, and with spring inevitably comes spring fever.

"There are several varieties of this highly contagious disease. Scientists, who have spent their lifetimes studying the unpredictable plague, have uncovered many varieties of the disease, the more common of which follow.

"The most common variety is the shaky-kneed girl who goes around with a happy stare. She has a "crush" on some beardless youth who scarcely recognizes her existence. Her spring is punctuated by fits of poor appetite, reading love stories, and gazing out the window. Her daydreams have one thing in common; they all concern her and her heart-throb.

"Then there is the youth who till now was happy, but whose life is miserable because Gloria Glamour, the school beauty-queen, prefers the company of Phil Physique, the school strong man, to his. This victim of spring fever frequently resembles a hound dog, since his eyes, mouth, and ears take on a downward droop.

"One of the most dangerous spring fever sufferers is Wilma the Wolfess, who, though she chases all the men all the year-round, gets extremely persistent in her pursuit in the spring. If she's around, you'd better hide, or she will tell the world that you follow her all day, wink at her hourly, and get fresh with her in the back hall.

"Another common variety is the girl who sits and writes about spring fever for Ye Interlude. She . . . . She is day-dreaming about Aloysius. Excuse her, please."

TWENTY-THIRD PSALM OF A STUDENT

Mr. X is my teacher.
I shall not pass.
He maketh me to add long columns.
He expreseth my ignorance before the class;
He restoreth my sorrow;
He causes me to devise deceitful methods for my grade's sake;
He prepareth lessons of great length for me;
Yea, though I study all night, I shall gain no knowledge, which fact surely and distresseth me;
He giveth me low grades and tears runneth over.
Surely distress will follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in this class forever.
