Central won 23, lost 1, tied 1

Having lost 12 men at graduation, LaPorte still has 11 returning lettermen, who promise to be rough and merciless on opponents.

In the backfield they boast "Backy" Haag, a terrific break-away runner. Jim Levandoski and Ed Broeker are two boys that opponents will have to watch.

The line has more lettermen, including Rudy Boyd and Myron Riley, two defensive aces. Also back are Rupenthal, D. Keller, Kale, and Glanders, all of whom saw considerable action last year.

After Friday's showing, the Bears will have to play some better defensive ball.

Don Bankowski and Bob Pauszek will probably be in Central' starting lineup for this coming game. Jim Dulcet, filling in for the injured Bill Barrett, is doing a good job at the quarterback slot.

Game time Friday is 8:00 at Kiwanis Field.

NO STUDENT SEASON TICKETS

There will be no season football tickets available to Central students this year. Central games with Riley, Mishawaka, and Washington will require reserved tickets because of the capacity crowds that are expected to attend these games, but seats for other games will not be reserved. The price of student tickets is $.30.

Adults may purchase reserved season tickets at Central for $6.00.

SPORTS HANDBOOK

A handbook which is to cover all sports at Central is now being compiled. The book will contain all facts, figures, etc., relating to sports activities.

The committee in charge of the book includes: Dick Schutt, Ken Dempsey, Jerry Klein, Bill O'Dell, George Beamer, George Rohrback, Dick, Rockstrof, John Eichorst, and Jim Rieder.

The handbook was originated under the direction of Chris Dal Sasso, and will be dedicated to him. It should be ready for distribution some time in the near future.

HIGH SCHOOL PAGE REPORTERS

There has been a change in Central's representatives for the High School Page of the South Bend Sunday Tribune. Roz Johnson, senior, and News Editor of The INTERLUDE, will be replaced as reporter by Judy Mellow, senior, who writes editorials.

Ellen Frank, senior, will also serve as Tribune reporter, assisted by Jeanne Martin, junior.

Adams Play Tonight

The John Adams Drama Club is giving the first performance of its annual fall production tonight at 8:00 in the Adams Auditorium. The play, "Summer Is A-Comin' In," a comedy by Louis Parker, is under the direction of James Lewis Casaday. Miss Gwendolyn Kaczmarek is production co-ordinator. Tickets may be obtained either from Mr. Casaday in room #3 or purchased at the door.

DEBATE

Central's debaters this year total twenty-five. Seven students returned from last year. Only one member of the varsity team returned. He is Dave Nowacki, a 12B, from home room 224. There have been no definite debates scheduled yet this year, but Central will probably go to Purdue for a debate late in November or early December.

BRAUNSDORF JUNIOR ROTARIAN

Warren Braunsdorf has been elected Junior Rotarian from Central for the first semester of this school year, Principal P. D. Pointer discloses. Warren is a 12A from home room 103 and is a member of the football team. Jerry Klein has been selected as the Kiwanis representative for the first nine weeks period. Jerry is a 12B and assists in sports-writing for The INTERLUDE.

CENTRAL WELCOMES FOREIGN STUDENTS

"America is wonderful!" This was the statement made by most of the new Central students this year whose homes are in foreign lands. The countries that are represented by these students are Greece, Germany, Egypt, and China. These boys and girls who have been in America a very short time are both exchange students and students sent here by their families so that they might attend an American school.

Marlies Borneman, a pretty 16-year-old girl from Goslar, Germany, is a junior at Central. In Germany, Marlies attended a girls' school with an enrollment of about 500 where school started at 8:00 A. M. and ended at 1:00 P. M. As is typical of most foreign schools, the students remained in one room and the different teachers came to them. Marlies has been in the United States four weeks and she thinks that it is every bit as wonderful as she expected it to be. Although Marlies is not too well acquainted with the American way of life, she made the following comment. "American factory workers earn 2 or 3 times as much as a German factory worker. Things such as the car, refrigerator and stove which are considered necessities in America, are only for the very rich in Germany." Marlies said that most of the German people that she knew, liked Americans and were especially thankful to Americans and the Red Cross for the CARE packages that were received in Germany. This aid indirectly made Marlies' trip to America possible. She has a sponsor in this country who will act as her guardian until she returns to Germany. Families in Germany are not large because the parents can not afford to take care of a large family.

Exotic Cairo, Egypt is the home of Maline and Chant Manoukin. Meline and he arrived in the United States on July 4th of this year. Meline, 21 years old and a senior at Central, plans to study nursing after she completes her high school education. Sixteen-year-old Chant, a junior at Central, is interested in agriculture. He wants to go to California for further study in his chosen field. Meline and Chant live with a sister and brother-in-law here in South Bend. Life in Egypt is very different from that in America. There are still social classes, but efforts are still being made to abolish them and set up a more democratic government.

Boys and girls in Egypt almost always marry to class. They usually marry a person who is a friend of the family. People in Egypt very seldom marry for love. They think that security is much more important. When asked about the weather in Egypt, Meline said that the temperature gets as high as 47° C. and as low as 10° C. The pep assemblies were quite a surprise to Meline. She thinks American

Give a Change a Chance

Something new has been added, and we're not so sure we like it. We're disgusted with some of the changes. They aren't convenient. Things were fine the way they were. Why don't we leave them alone? Too many of us are becoming set in a pattern, as in a rut, and we are satisfied to stay there, seeing nothing else, doing nothing else, thinking of nothing else. As if we run on tracks, we eat at the same place every day, get up at the same time, and use the same meaningless expression.

When something comes along that doesn't fit into our one-track pattern, we dislike it before we even try it, because it breaks the pattern.

It may be that the new additions are not the best thing. But the only way to find out is to try them. It is only by a trial-and-error process that we can find a system that will mean the greatest good for the greatest number.

Are We Sheep?

"Follow the fold and stray no more, follow, follow the fold."

With this as their theme song, more and more people are following the rest of the "sheep" over the fence, and going along with the crowd.

In many cases, they do it because they want to; because they know no better, because they have no ambition to be different. But there are some who do it because they are afraid — afraid of what the rest of the sheep will say; afraid they will lose friends by coming up with something new and different.

They want to improve and suggest, but for fear of the consequences, they join the ranks and fall into line.

They are like the mice who wanted to devise a plan for knowing when the cat was around. They finally decided the best way was to tie a bell around the cat's neck. They got the bell, and they got a ribbon, and they asked, "Who will tie the bell?"

Many people have worthwhile and sound solutions for our problems, but they are afraid to tie the bell.

Keep Pace with the Times

Someone has said, "A man never steps in the same river twice." Offhand, it's a rather senseless statement.

But after consideration, it proves to make sense. It's just a different way of saying that the exact same thing never happens twice. It's another way of saying that things are constantly changing.

They are changing, whether we realize it or not. We notice it all of a sudden, and it comes as a surprise.

In the light of this fact, we must develop broad, unbiased thinking; and open our minds to change.

As we do not wear the same type of clothes that people wore ten years ago, neither do we use the same methods and systems, if we want to keep up with the times.

The Silver Chalice

Fire and excitement are woven in this story to make it something you'll never forget. Thomas B. Costain's latest novel, The Silver Chalice, is a narrative of biblical time. Its inspirational story is woven about the Cup used by Christ at the Last Supper with His Disciples.

The element of romance is found in the fictional hero, Basil of Antioch, a young artisan, who is purchased from slavery so that he might create a suitable casing for the precious Chalice. Through the strange capitals of the ancient world, braving the perils of Christian persecution, and the whims of the Roman Emperor, Nero, Basil proceeds to do his task, diverted only by the charms of two very beautiful women.

I found reading this book a worthwhile and satisfying experience. The Silver Chalice, as well as being a powerful and moving narrative, brings us a new idea and an inspiring challenge to our society today.

VERIE SAUER SAYS:

What are sweethearts made of?
I can tell you this,
Moonlight nights, and loads of fights,
Mended by a kiss.
A beat up car, that won't go far,
And dates that last till dawn.
Thoughtful walks, and serious talks,
About the world's wrongs.
What are sweethearts made of?
That's not so hard to tell,
For everything that's good belongs,
To a fella and his gal.

Under the clock conversation centers around . . . hush, hush ideas for the Central-Mishawaka parade . . . The INTERLUDE; favorable comment, we hope . . . tryouts for the Barnstormer's newest production, "Under the Gaslight," a melodrama with a flavor of comedy . . . the drop in South Bend's population, thanks to the many lucky ones who have left for college . . . homework; "There's something about homework that tugs at your eyelids!" . . . the crowded condition of the Central halls; the object is to get behind one of Central's linemen . . . the back-to-school dance October 22nd . . . the wonderful game at Gary and plans for many just like it in the near future.

Two examples to prove that dating can be carried on long distance; Marilyn Jennings and Bruce Doring (Elkhart); Joanne Gschwindt and Gene Wallace (Coldwater, Mich.).

We see Wendy H. has deserted the Central male population for Jim Kanouse (Adams).

Bonnie Palmiter, who is Ed Friend of Riley? We've certainly heard a lot about him recently!

A recent comment by an elderly gentleman heard in front of a downtown department store, which advertised in bold letters, Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes. "It's about time!"

Lloyd Milliken seemed to be occupied by Janet Lea (Purdue) this summer. How about it, Lloyd?

That's a diamond on Janice Schechter's left hand. The lucky guy; Walt Taberski (W.C.).

Pat Morris seems to be one gal who really gets around. Now it's Larry Kedzie; an attraction out Adams way.

Congratulations to our new City Woman's Tennis Champ; Barbara Ogden.

This thing we call love: "Dearest Annabelle," wrote John, "I would swim the mighty oceans for one look into your deep blue eyes. I would walk through a well of flame for a single touch of your tiny hands. I would leap the deepest chasm for a word from your lovely lips. As always, Your John." P.S. "I'll be over Saturday night if it doesn't rain." — Sherrill Times.

A cute little Miss from across the seas is Vicky Karnezis, a student from Greece.

And then we have Sandy Miller still dating her guy in Air Force blue, George Karras (Central grad.).

Two couples from way back; Nancy Babcock and Bob Clements (Central grad.); Loretta Szylay and Tom Schaffer.

Glad to hear Rita Mackowski and Jim Major have been steadies since summer.

A combination that's still going strong after hitting the rocks and bouncing several times; Barbara DeVolder and Pat Higgins.

What does Washington Clay have that Central lacks, Dick Rouch? A certain Nancy?

Pity the poor mailman that carries the mail for Joyce Hutson. Between the letters she sends to Prizzy and the answers she receives, he must have quite a load!

OPINIONS THAT COUNT

One of the first tangible complaints concerning the new lunch hour system was submitted to The INTERLUDE last week in the form of an anonymous letter. As the letter was not signed, the paper cannot publish it, but the question it presented was referred to Mr. Pointer. The essence of the complaint concerned the insufficient time students have to go to the rest room at noon. Mr. Pointer's answer to this question is quoted below: "Every student is urged to go to the washroom before going to the cafeteria. Also, those who leave the building should go to the washroom before leaving and may go to the washroom upon returning if they desire. "This lunch hour is a city-wide program and has been sponsored by the Superintendent of Schools and the Board of Education. We want the program to work to the satisfaction of all concerned and adjustments will be made in individual cases if we find it necessary to do so."

The INTERLUDE would like to publish any ideas or constructive criticism you have concerning school problems. From now on, this is your column, dedicated to the Opinions That Count, the views of the faculty and student body of Central, so don't hesitate to contribute.

BEGIN NOW

If every student gets into the habit of preparing each lesson as it comes, he will probably be a leader in his class. At least his work will be satisfactory. If, however, he leaves the lesson unprepared during the first week or two he will soon find himself slipping and it will be hard to catch up.

You may think that you can neglect your lessons early in the term and make up for it by hard work later on, but that will be a difficult thing to do. Each lesson will be more of a problem than the others have been. After a while, you will find that you cannot hold your place among your classmates because the preparation of each lesson will depend upon an understanding of the previous ones in the course. If the earlier assignments have been neglected, your work will become more and more difficult.

Do not put yourself to this disadvantage. Keep out in front from the very start. If you do this, you will not only make good grades, but you will enjoy your school work.

P. D. POINTER, Principal.

The "Flapper" . . . In the 20's, every girl from 12 to 22 wanted to have that magic name applied to her. So, she wore silk hose rolled just below the knees and 2" Louis heeled shoes of patent leather. She wore her plaid skirt with suspenders and finished her costume with a baggy sweater that fitted below the waist. She had her hair cut in shingle in back and like a duck tail on the sides, with pasted down curls on her forehead. She always used her lipstick to paint her mouth in a cupid's bow. (Sheik, huh?) Of course, shoulder tickler earrings were in every girl's jewelry case — Did you ever wonder how the flapper got her name? Well, it was probably derived from the fact that she never buckled her boots or buttoned her coat — she always let them swish or flap! . . . Saturday, Sept. 17 marked the first game of the '27 season. We overwhelmed Dowagiac 25-0. On Sept. 24, we beat Elwood of Chicago 9-6 (yea-team!!) . . . The hit parade of '26 featured Baby Face and Charmaine . . . Joke (1927 vintage). Two fleas were walking along a Nabisco box. Suddenly the first flea started to flee. Said the second flea: "What's the rush?" Answered the first, the fleeing flea, "Can't you see? It says, 'Tear along this line.'" . . . Fashion decrees that everything must match this year: Silk and lisle check and plaid hose come in all colors. Tradition reigns:

Who's going to win?
We're going to win
Are you sure?
Absolutely.

Red Devils Upset Bears

BEAR FACTS

Conference Opened With Loss

The Central Bears, minus the services of Don Bankowski, Bill Barrett, and Bob Pauszek, were upset 6-0 by Michigan City. This loss snapped a 19-game winning streak.

The last Bear defeat was early in the 1950 season by the hands of Gary Roosevelt. There is no doubt that this is one of the finest teams Central has met in the past few years.

Central received the opening kickoff, and from that point the two teams battled for 42 minutes without a score being registered. Then with just four minutes to play, Ken Schreiber tossed to George Gondek, who was in the clear, for 35 yards and a TD. Steinborn's conversion was off to the right. Score: 6-0.

The Bears just couldn't get the pigskin to move. If they did, a penalty, fumble, or interception would stop them. The deepest they went into Red Devil territory was to the 24-yard line.

With a minute and a half left, Central fumbled and lost any possible chance to come back.

TENNIS TEAM VICTORIOUS

The Central Tennis Team under Coach Bob Turnock opened its season with a victory over Riley's Wildcats. Led by juniors Ron Kroll and Don Denning, and freshman Bob Wortham, they downed the 'Cats 5-0. In their second match of the season they met the powerful Cavemen of Mishawaka, who were led by one of Northern Indiana's most promising netmen, a lad named Curtis. They were beaten 5-0. However, Coach Turnock believes that the team did better than the score indicates. The pint-sized Kroll took the talented Curtis into three sets before succumbing, and Denning played much better than in the Riley match.

Coach Turnock plans to use mostly underclassmen this fall in a move to build for the future. The top four men as of now are Kroll, Denning, Wortham, and Garlough. These four underclassmen plus two eighth graders, Kalabany and Roper, who Turnock says have great promise, should give Central a very formidable tennis squad next fall.

The remaining matches of the schedule are as follows:

Cross Country Commences

Cross country has started and is now in full swing. Coach Devon Phelps is developing his team with the aid of George Rohrbach, captain of the 1952 varsity cross country squad. The squad will be helped by the return of four veterans, Capt. Rohrbach, Leslie Lobaugh, Bob Cannon, and Bill O'Dell.

Coach Phelps says he has an excellent chance to better last year's record, because this year's team will have good balance, something that our teams haven't had in the last few years. Last year's record was five wins and four losses.

Coach Phelps asked to make this statement, "All other coaches are cooperating nicely by letting the boys in their sport go out for cross country." It has been noticed that there are a few boys out for cross country whose main sport is swimming.

BUSES FOR LA PORTE

Mr. Pointer has announced that there will be five buses available for the LaPorte game.

However, three of these are for the band who will accompany the team to LaPorte. The other two are for the students. The first 78 students to sign up will be taken.

Well, it finally happened. Central's grid team, undefeated in 19 previous games, failed in its quest for number twenty. Not since the Gary Roosevelt opener of the 1950 season have the Bears been conquered.

Whether the Bears could have beaten Michigan City if they had been in better physical condition is hard to tell. The whole squad was sick the night before the game with dye poisoning and Bill Barrett, recuperating from a twisted knee, Bob Pauszek, with a shoulder separation, plus Don Bankowski, with the worst case of poisoning, sat it out on the sidelines.

However, don't take anything away from the Red Devils. They were definitely up for the game, especially George Gondek, that explosive runner who kept the Bears on edge most of the game and caught the winning touchdown pass. Gondek also excels in the broad jump in track.

Kids need more than "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic" in this day and age if they are to be successful in their adult years. It calls for a real education. Many a boy — and girl — has gone to college because a savings account eased the financial strain.

boys and girls are a bit noisy. Meline has been quite homesick since she has been in America. We hope she will lose some of this feeling and learn to like South Bend better during her stay here.

Tripoli, Greece is the home of Vicki Karnezis. Vicki has been in America for 5 months. She is living with relatives and is planning to remain in South Bend. Vicki, who is a first cousin to George Makris, a Central graduate, is 18 years old and a junior at Central. This may be quite a surprise to some people, but schoolwork in America seems to be easy in comparison with schoolwork in foreign countries. In Greece, Vicki took eight subjects. Economic conditions in Greece at the present time are not very good, but they are improving. Prices are extremely high even though a worker does not earn much money. A small package of soda crackers costs a $1.00 in Greece. A friend of Vicki's who worked in a garment factory 12 hours a day, six days a week, earned only $1.25 a day.

From 1947-1950 there was very little food in Greece, Vicki says. She lived on a small farm and she and her friends were very grateful for the CARE packages they received when they were so desperately in need of help. American life has made a wonderful impression on Vicki and she especially likes the pep assemblies that she has seen at Central. "The assemblies show that the students are all working together," said Vicki. Vicki has no definite plans for herself after she finishes school. Her main ambition now is to graduate from high school.

We here at Central hope that the new students will enjoy their stay in America for we shall surely enjoy having them with us.

—ROZ JOHNSON.

Past and Present around Central: Indiana University, looking for a reliable center has moved former Central star, Jim Vesel into starting position. Lou Zobrosky, another ex-Central flash, is reported to have the inside track at right guard for the Hoosiers.

Rumor: What's this rumor about night high school baseball games in an enclosed diamond. It might be a good idea to get the sport on the popular level with football and basketball. It's football season, we'll talk more about this later.

Northern Indiana is highly represented at the University of Michigan with senior Dick Strozewski, a 210 ex-Washington star tackle, junior Dave Beison, a former E. C. Roosevelt guard; and Freshman Bob Sriver, 10-letter winner at Mishawaka last year.

Cubskin thought that Riley, Mishawaka, and Washington all looked impressive during their appearance at School Field over the weekend. The Panthers look like they are the team to beat for conference honors.
