Vol. 16, No. 4

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL
South Bend, Indiana 46617

Oct. 20, 1967

AFS Begins at Central

In the past two years, a number of students have expressed a desire to re-establish the American Field Service in hopes of bringing a foreign exchange student to Central. This goal has now been reached with the first meeting of Central's A.F.S. on October 11, 1967. The A.F.S. is part of an international program which sponsors the exchange of students between countries. It is believed that a student exchange program such as this will bring about a deeper understanding among young people throughout the world.

Formerly active in the A.F.S., Central has had 11 foreign students over the past 13 years. This year the A.F.S., under the sponsorship of Mrs. Alice Raben, is planning a series of projects to raise the necessary money. It is this year's goal to earn enough money to obtain two foreign students for next year.

The first event on the A.F.S. calendar is a kick-off assembly being planned tentatively for the week of October 30. Counseled by temporary co-chairmen, Joyce White and Brenda Potts, committees have been formed to plan and promote the assembly. Ideas for other projects have included bringing back the A.F.S. pizza sale, or possibly selling candy or Christmas wrapping.

A.F.S. is open to anyone interested. Meetings are held Wednesdays after school in room 317 on a weekly basis. Officers will be elected at the next meeting.

Attempts are being made to form an adult chapter of the A.F.S. The duties of this group would be to conduct home studies and interviews in selecting a home for the exchange student to stay in for a year.

Three Seniors Receive Honors

Three Central seniors, Cheryl Barts, Linda Biber, and Mark Szymanski, have received Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. They are among 40,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1968. These students rank just below the Semi-finalists.

Commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the National Merit Scholarship Test. The reports include test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the commended students.

Cheryl plans to attend Purdue University next fall, and major in Aeronautical Engineering. She would also like to pursue her interest in physics and Nuclear Engineering.

Purdue is also the university Mark would like to attend. He would like to major in Civil Engineering.

Linda plans to attend either Stanford University or the University of Southern California. She would like to major in journalism or possibly architecture.

Writers Chosen For Trib Page

Writers for the South Bend Tribune's high school page this year include Karen Brom, Linda Biber, Barb Quackenbush, Mark Sylvester, and Charles Glaes. Their job includes selecting the articles of interest from the Interlude newspaper, and entering them into the high school page. Besides relaying the articles, the writers will also be responsible for doing a part of the reporting themselves.

Showing the creativity and originality of the students is the primary objective of the high school page. Poems, and other original articles, written by the students, will have the opportunity to be printed in a metropolitan newspaper. The Tribune's page also informs people in the community of the activities and news events in the area's high schools.

The high school page this year has expanded from one page, to one and a half or two, and will appear each Sunday. The articles that will be presented to the Tribune are those concerning the subjects of interest to both the public and the students.

NEWS BRIEFS

Paula Clark, a senior, has been selected as an at-large semi-finalist in the Miss Teen-age America contest. She was chosen from entries from throughout the United States by a panel of judges in Dallas, Texas. Judging was based on a picture sent in by Paula, and her scholastic average. The finals of the Pageant will be nationally televised on November 11.

The following people have been selected to serve on the Junior Class Executive Board: Sue Anderson, Sharon Banks, Sharon Bilinski, Jim Brom, Lily Burgess, Marsha Callahan, Darlene Cross, Chris Ebel, Carl Ellison, Bonnie Fiedler, Rose Ruzy, Dan Gramza, Sharon Harris, Betsy Hager, Sandy Heierman, Bill Hintz, Steve Jenkins, Diane Kierein, Anne Mathews, Kevin Murphy, Monica Nagy, John Nelson, Rick Phillips, Cecelia Began, Dan Roberts, Sandy Skiles, Barry Smith, Terry Stevens, Terry Stewart, Mark Sylvester, Diatra White, Cindy Williams, and Pam Womer.

Newly Elected Officers Plan Year

Bob Williams was on the freshman football team and is now on B-team. He is serving on the Student Council and is a member of the Booster Club.

Megan Huff was in Spanish Club and Art Club. She was also on the Student Council Executive Board, and the Freshman Class Executive Board. At present, she is serving as treasurer of the Art Club.

Diane Stratigos was secretary of her Freshman class. She served on the Student Council, and Student Council Election Committee. She was also in Art Club, Swim Club, Spanish Club, and Booster Club. At present she is on the yearbook staff and active in A.F.S.

Those students who ran for office but were not elected, helped the Sophomore Class Officers choose the Executive Board. These students were: Dennis Randall, Margaret Doyle, Mahlon Wise, Mary Womack, Lydia Nuss, Becki Rowe, and Judy Driver.

Chosen for the Sophomore Class Executive Board were: Penny Richardson, Kris Arentz, Steve Peterson, Joel Wagner, Jack Dosman, Beth Wilson, Stella Curl, Sue DeWitte, Diane Freeman, Jim Garges, Debbie Hammarlund, Sally Hintz, Liz Horan, Cindy Jambor, Barb Milon, Liz Redos, Ricky Newton, Mark Horvath, John Robison, James Husband, Rosemary Swank, Mary Zrelinski, and Fred Miller.

The Freshman Class also elected officers. They are as follows: president, Dan Altman; vice president, Mike Morris; secretary, Jeannette Denny; and treasurer, Leslie Fiedler. The other candidates who ran for these offices were: Tom Ades, Jackie Sikorski, Gig Young, Mark Anderson, Jackie Sweet, and Pat Krych. These people will be part of the Freshman Class Executive Board and work along with the newly elected officers to select other freshmen to form the rest of the executive board. The officers and executive board will have a meeting to plan their upcoming activities for this year.

Students Prepare for Concert

Members of the Central Orchestra and Glee Club will participate in the North Central Concert which will be held October 26, 1967, at John Adams High School. This concert is an annual presentation for teachers during the North Central Teachers Conference which is held in South Bend.

The guest conductor this year is Edwyn Hames who is presently the conductor of the South Bend Symphony Orchestra.

Orchestra members participating are: James Gaska, Carolyn Powell, Marlene Nagel, Diatra White, Elizabeth Wilson, Beverly Kagel, Eileen Leatherman, Gretchen Myers, Edward Kahal, Shelia Vaz, and Willie Jenkins. Cheryl Barts is the participant from the band.

The orchestra will play the following compositions: An Outdoor Overture, by Aaron Copeland; Suite from the Water Music, by Handel; Air from the Suite for Strings in Olden Style, by Greig; selections from The Sound of Music, by Rogers; and More, from the motion picture "Mondo Cane." These compositions were selected by a committee of Directors from the North Central Association.

The orchestra's portion of the program will last approximately 45 minutes.

The Glee Club will be responsible for the other part of the program. Their songs include: Brother John, from the Singing Nun; Ballad of Brotherhood, by Joseph Wagner; Christ of the Snow, by Harvey Gaul; Elijah Rock, a spiritual by Jester Hairston; O Bambino, by Remo Capra and Anthony Velona; The Beatitudes, by Kent A. Newbury; Cheribum Song, by Tschaiakowsky; and selections from Brigadoon, by Alan J. Lerner and Frederick Loewe.

TB League Backs Projects

The Junior Board of the Tuberculosis League, whose purpose is "to promote good health and stimulate interest in the work of the Tuberculosis League in the high schools in the county," embarks on its 30th season this year. The Board sponsors several projects that high school students are urged to participate in.

High school students are asked to enter the Health Poster Contest, even if they are not taking art in school. Generous cash prizes are offered, and a scholarship at the Art Center for the best poster made by an underclassman. Posters are due before March 11, 1968.

Students interested in writing may enter the School Press Project, sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press in cooperation with the Tuberculosis League. Articles may be written on the prevention and eradication of TB and other respiratory diseases, problems of cigarette smoking, and air pollution are eligible for Certificates of Honor from both the Indiana and the National Tuberculosis Associations. Articles are due before January 17, 1968.

The Junior Board is made up of a junior and a senior member from each high school in the county. Bob Seals and Charlotte Feldman are Central's representatives. They will be pleased to furnish further information or provide literature to interested students.

Note Election Success

To give the students a criteria for judging the candidates for class offices, the Student Council initiated a new program for class elections. This year, candidates for office delivered speeches before their classmates in the auditorium.

By conducting the elections in this manner, the Student Council hoped to better acquaint voters with the candidates. Thus, class members were able to choose the candidate they wanted to vote for on the basis of merit.

Student Council officers feel that the new program is an improvement over last year's method of elections. Last year, class members voted on candidates chosen by the Election Committee on the basis of speeches.

Fewer students signed up to run for offices this year than last year. However, the Election Committee feels that the results were more than satisfactory.

To a Friend... Urgent!

Dear Mary,

I've been thinking about what you said the other day — that people only to go college to find a marriage partner or to get a higher paying job — and, well, I just can't agree with you. I really don't think any girl would go to college just to meet her future husband or to get a higher paying job (to get a better, more interesting job, yes — but not necessarily higher paying). For one thing, college is hard work, and anyone who is there to look for a husband would probably flunk out the first quarter. And what about the many girls' schools that are so sought after?

As for that higher paying job — we were visiting my uncle this summer, and he gave me this idea. We were talking about college and what I wanted to be, and I told him that I had been working in a restaurant this summer. He asked me if I liked working there, and I said no, because it was tiring and repetitious. So then he said that I should be thankful that I got the job. I couldn't understand this until he continued that I should be thankful because it showed me that working in a restaurant was definitely not the kind of work I wanted to do for the rest of my life.

Now, don't get me wrong! I'm not trying to say that if you don't go to college, you're going to be bored all of your life. I'm just saying that, for many people, college is a means of securing a more interesting and challenging job in a field they can choose. Being a college grad gives them more job opportunities.

I hope you change your mind about college. I know you're working now and plan to work after you graduate this spring, but I really don't know what kind of work you're doing — how challenging it is for you or how mechanical. I do remember, however, what you said about not being able to wait until graduation, because you wanted to really make some money. I think that this is a one-sided view. If you take a job just for the money, then money is all you will get out of it.

Please believe me! I am not trying to give you advice. I could never do that, because you and I are on the same age and experience level. I just wanted to show you why college is so important for those who can make the grade. Whatever you or anyone else decides to do after college should be on the basis of personal interest. Whether it be college, work, or even marriage — just make sure it's best for you.

Your friend,
Rosemary

Senior Spotlight

An Interest in Printing and Law

The senior spotlighted in this week's issue of the Interlude is Bruce Rector. As a senior, Bruce has already accomplished much, and he is contributing even more in his last year at Central. Bruce is the vice-president of the Student Council this year, and he is also the president of the J.E.T.S. In past years, he has served on his sophomore and junior class executive boards and was a member of the mock United Nations assemblies for the past two years. Other activities include a past co-chairmanship on the election committee for the senior class officers and a post on the safety check executive board.

In his spare time, Bruce works for the South Bend Community School Corporation by printing material for the Administration Building. He also does some printing for the main office here at Central. When he is not working, Bruce enjoys himself by playing football and swimming.

An active supporter of school activities, Bruce attends as many of the sports contests as possible. When asked to comment on this, he replied, "I only wish that more students would attend all the sports contests to show the teams that their school is backing them one-hundred percent."

Government is Bruce's favorite subject, and he intends to pursue this course in college. His future plans include law school and later attend Rollins College in Florida, where he wants to begin his career in law.

What Went On In Assembly?

A school assembly is very rarely given a newspaper review, but last Tuesday's Champion Highway Safety program deserves special space in this publication. The South Bend Police Department and South Bend Tribune presented a film which went beyond those overworked "Drive Safely Because..." and "This Is How to be a Courteous Driver" themes. All were pleasantly surprised when the film was introduced by a very special guest speaker, — Bob Veith, veteran Indianapolis "500" driver and eleventh place finisher in last year's race.

The film itself had an interesting approach. Scenes flashed from the Pasadena Freeway, where a careless speeder was being apprehended, to the Daytona "500," the Pike's Peak run, and the Indianapolis "500," where professional "men-of-danger" were exercising all safety precautions.

The excellent presentation on stage, unfortunately, had to compete with quite a performance in the audience. Tuesday's assembly became a first — the first time a guest speaker has had to ask Central's audience to be quiet or else go back to class. As Mr. Veith attempted to discuss courtesy in the automobile, Central people gave him an excellent example of discourtesy in the auditorium.

It is understandable that a few funny bones would be tickled when the hot movie projector stopped and the Indianapolis "500" balloon spectacle suddenly burned up on the screen. Yet this doesn't account for the conduct before and after the film and during the pause for a projector change.

The assembly is over and nothing can change the impression our visitors carried away with them; yet the entire student body can and must do something to prevent a recurrence. It is not enough to merely hang our heads in shame and pass it off. Each and every student has the responsibility to himself and to the school to learn common courtesy; and each homeroom teacher has the right to demand this courtesy at all times. Hopefully, with a little more over-all respect and a little more student-teacher teamwork, Central will again be able to claim she has a mature listening audience.

Halloween

Orange and black ghastly darkness
wakened!
by the realization of Halloween.
Spooks that soap

jack-o'-lanterns — cut from nature's earth returned

Smashed, Squished.
Soft
hushed laughter rides
on a broom overhead
Children.
LOUD, BRAWLING cries
ride in the cars
Kids run hide behind a mask of orange and black

Seeing Lots of Stars

What's happening within the hallowed halls of Central? Plenty! Central's spirit is high and its students enthusiastic, zany and studious!! Report cards are on their way, but then, into every life a little rain must fall. Now on to a happier note on the antics of our student body!

It seems Terry Stevens, Tom Horan, and Paul Igas have found something better to do than attend chemistry class; I believe it's called roaming the halls. There has also been a lot of wandering and searching going on in the main office. Mrs. Baer left us for a while, and the girls in the main office managed to bring about an easy chaos and plenty of confusion. Even the mailman was astounded!

Bob Seals, Tom Strickler and John Hess donned skirts to see what the other side of sports was like. Would you believe cheerleaders?? Out on the football field at the LaSalle game, don't be surprised at the sight of about thirty shivering, but enthusiastic Glee Club members joyfully singing. In case you have trouble hearing their voices over the band — the song they're singing is entitled "Born Free."

Pete Zink has found a unique way of making a five-pointed star. Of course, all of the flaws have not been removed from his invention. When he uses his teeth instead of scissors to complete his star, it tends to lack any resemblance to one. Somehow it seems to look like a piece of trash paper. Barb Quackenbush releases her anxieties by drawing rows of different colored stars on notepaper. Well, why not? Felicia Wands just can't seem to keep her shoes on in class. As she sits down, her shoes automatically come off her feet. Besides being an extrovert, Angie Milke is a Halloween candy snatcher. If nabbed, her purse will divulge a massive amount of Trick or Treat bubble gum.

Mrs. Spohnholz's third hour class is praying for survival, not just for a passing grade. You will be able to recognize the members of the class by the way they throw up their hands upon leaving the classroom. Mrs. Happer seems to have a very unusual tape recorder. Instead of playing back the tape, it tosses it across the room.

Central has been blessed with unusual utilities. For example, for all of you who like to battle for a drink of water, try the drinking fountain across the hall from the guidance office. It has the unique facility of attacking you in three areas; one is your eye, the other your nose, and if you can hold out, you can slurp from the lower spray of water. The real blow is the fact that the water is most always warm!!

On a more serious note, for all of you who have not heard, our Mr. Winther, instigator of our Ziggy cheer, suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago. I'm sure all of you share our sincere hope that his recovery will be quick and lasting.

Writing Contest Opens Cultural Events Calendar Library Adds More Books

The rules and requirements for the 1968 Scholastic Magazines Creative Writing Contest have been released, and are now available to students in junior and senior high school. This contest is sponsored yearly by the Scholastic Magazines Incorporated (publishers of Junior Scholastic, Senior Scholastic, Literary Cavalcade, and others) and the Royal Typewriter Company for pupils in grades seven through twelve.

Students in grades seven through nine are eligible to enter any one of three categories. The first of these is the "article" division, in which the writer explains his own thoughts or feelings on a subject, humorous or serious, using between 500 and 1500 words. Second is poetry, which may consist of one poem or a group of poems, which total not fewer than twenty-four or more than one hundred lines. The last area open to the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades is the short story, in which the student writes a new and original short story of between 600 and 1800 words.

There are seven categories open to students in the three upper grades of senior high school. They are: short story, short-short story, poetry, informal article, formal article, dramatic script, and critical essay.

A short story is a short fictional narrative about one or more persons involved in one incident. It should be 1300 to 3000 words long. The short-short story possesses the same qualities, except that it should be 600 to 1300 words long.

An entry in the poetry division should consist of one or more poems on any subject. The entry should total between 32 and 200 lines.

The informal article is a short informal article on a subject of general interest, taking between 700 and 1500 words.

The formal article is a serious article aimed at education or information, rather than entertainment. It may be a commentary on a work of literature, art, or science, or a discussion of an idea in philosophy. The preferred length is between 1000 and 2000 words.

The dramatic script should be an original one-act play for radio, theatre, or television. It should not exceed 30 minutes in playing time.

The last area, the critical review, is an evaluation of a motion picture, television program, or other dramatic performance, and should not be shorter than 600 words, or longer than 1000.

Awards include three first awards of $100 in each category, as well as smaller cash prizes and honorable mention certificates. The deadline for all entries is March 1, 1968. Interested students should see their English teachers.

Central Plans For Halloween

With Halloween drawing close, news has leaked out of a number of Centralites who are already planning their "Trick—or—Treat" costumes. The Interlude staff have discovered a few, and would like to reveal them to the Central student body.

Sharon Hodges: Birdman
Joan Inwood: a witch
Terry Cephus: "I guess I'll be Uncle Sam"
John Makris: "I'm going to be a candy thief"
Ed Kahal: Zorro
Pete Zink: "I'll put out my eyes and be Oedipus Rex"
Marlene Nagel: a sailor
Frank Machulus: "If I can earn enough money, I'll go as a millionaire"
Alvin Wylie: Mickey Mouse
Bruno Lacopo: Sophia Loren (?)
Mr. Clements: Dr. Faustus
Agnes Milke: Batman
Karen Brom: Super—Zeus
Denny Walsh: "I'll put a raisin in my navel and go as a cooky"
Bob Wagner: a musclemann
Leslie Bella: a vandal
Mr. Nelson: The Great Pumpkin

These are all of the official plans, but it's suspected, although none of the suspects will admit it, that Bob Seals, Tom Strickler, John Hess, and Steve Peterson are going "Trick—or—Treating" as cheerleaders.

Central's Clubs Plan For '67

Many of Central's student clubs are beginning to get in motion this school year, and have released some of their plans for the year.

Future Doctors Club

The Future Doctors Club has arranged for its members to study areas in medical and related fields, by touring facilities related to medical and biological science, by preparing reports on medical professions, and by listening to lectures and watching films throughout the year.

Members plan specifically to tour the Indiana Medical School in Indianapolis. Leading the Future Doctors Club are Rosemary Ades as president, and Margaret Anderson as vice-president. The Future Doctors Club is sponsored by Mr. Devon Phelps and meets in room 402 on club days.

Future Teachers Club

Future Teachers have set up goals for the year, which include encouragement of cadet teaching, participation in the Neighborhood Study Help Program, and inviting guest speakers to discuss such topics as primary education, college requirements for teachers, and special areas in teaching. The Future Teachers also plan to study the merits of various colleges for those who plan on a teaching career.

They will continue their annual teachers tea, and will have money-making projects to facilitate their plans. Future Teachers Club and its sponsor, Mrs. Mona Paulson, will welcome as members any responsible persons who are interested in teaching.

J.E.T.S. Club

The Jets Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Arthur Klingerman, plans to study science, engineering, and technology by several methods. These include: science demonstrations by members, films on various areas in science and technology, and trips to places of scientific interest, such as Miles Laboratories in Elkhart.

The Jets have chosen Bruce Rector as president, and Edward Kahal as vice-president.

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y club and its sponsor, Mr. Emil Mamula, has begun planning for this school year, but does not have any definite activities scheduled as of yet. This club is affiliated with the YMCA, and the members may use the Y as a group. Any boy in Central High School may join the Hi-Y club.

Bears To Meet Lions

Tomorrow the Bears will take on the highly-spirited team from LaSalle at School Field. This will be the first time Central has met the Lions in grid competition since the school has been built. LaSalle is boasting a record of three wins and three losses, but has suffered three straight losses in a row, while the Bears have a win, a loss and a tie in the last three games.

When the whistle blows tomorrow night, all friendships between the north and west sides will leave. This game may prove to be one of the biggest football rivalries in the city. Many seniors on both Central and LaSalle teams were teammates on the freshman football team of 1964, coached by Mr. Gilkey. Both teams will be out to prove that their school is the best.

The Bears traveled to Michigan City to play the Devils on their homecoming night. Michigan City was the first to score after a fine defensive battle by both teams in the first quarter. The Devils scored on a long pass play to their end-zone in which the ball was deflected by Doug Scruggs but still caught by the falling offensive man on his knees. The Bears then came back on a drive with runs by Larry Johnson, and fine pass catching by John Makris and Jimmy Whittaker to set up Billy (golden toe) Ellis' field goal of twenty-six yards.

The Devils came back in the fourth quarter to score the final TD. Larry Johnson was the team's leading ground gainer and pass catcher with sixty-six yards for thirteen carries and thirty-one yards for two catches. Trimble McBride led the defensive team with eight tackles.

On Friday the 13th, the Central Bears and the Goshen Redskins fought to a 7-7 tie on a swampy field. The Bears scored first, late in the first quarter, when Kevin Murphy attempted three passes before connecting with Bob Lark for thirty-two yards at the Goshen five. On the opening play of the second period Murphy ran over right end and sprinted the rest of the distance for the score. Ellis kicked the point after touchdown.

The Redskins rebounded quickly by scoring in just a little over a minute later, after Gross broke away for a fifty-eight yard run. After the Goshen score Central was headed in fine fashion to break the tie when Murphy hit John Makris with two passes for 13 yards. He then hit Lark who did a juggling act before bringing the ball down on the six-yard line, a 29-yard pass play. But the Bears failed to capitalize after a motion penalty and a missed end zone pass.

The last scoring chance came in the fourth quarter when Central drove from its own 19-yard line to Goshen's 18-yard line where three straight passes failed. Then, Billy Ellis who had kicked two previous field goals this season, tried another from the 26-yard line with 19 seconds remaining in the game. The kick was true, but fell short.

Cagers, Tankers Begin

While the Fall sports are stealing most of the limelight, the swimming team and the basketball team are hard at work preparing for the start of their schedules.

Basketball

The basketball team, under the direction of head coach Jim Powers, has been making ready for the upcoming season since October 2. The first two weeks of practice were described by Coach Powers as being mainly for conditioning. Last Monday the team began the portion of practice that involves brushing up on basketball techniques.

On the first day of practice twelve boys showed up for the varsity team and nine boys came out for the B-team. "The twelve boys on the varsity team seem to be talented, hardworking, and enthusiastic which should add up to a very successful season," said Coach Powers. He made special note of Wayman Husband and Bruce Austin, two of the taller boys. Husband, standing at 6'4", and Austin at 6'2", have been doing an exceptional job in practice so far this season. In addition to Wayman and Bruce, Mr. Powers has four returning lettermen to boost the team. Returning from last season are Tom Davis, Carlton Robertson, Charles Fuller, and Paul Smith. Davis, a junior, was high scorer for the team last year. Carlton Robertson and Charles Fuller, also juniors, were starters last year. Dan Harris, who saw a small amount of varsity action last year, has been "remarkable in practice and should be quite valuable this year." Paul Smith, who is one of the only seniors on the team, is small but very quick and agile, which should make up for lack of height.

Due to the fact that the tryouts were so rewarding, Mr. Powers feels that the 1967-68 season will be exciting and highly successful.

PREDICTIONS

Central over LaSalle—the Bears' record is deceiving.

Riley over Goshen—not even a contest.

Washington over Adams—the Panthers are the best in the area.

St. Joe over Marian—the best game of the week.

Jackson over Clay—the Colonials haven't won yet.

Elkhart over Mishawaka—should be close.

Notre Dame over Illinois—the Irish will roll.

Michigan State over Indiana—the Hoosiers are not as good as they look.

Purdue over Oregon State—Keyes and Phipps are nearly unstoppable.

Ohio State over Northwestern—the 'Cats could upset, though.

Slippery Rock over North Dakota State Teachers College—a squeaker.

Seals, Smith Pace Harriers

The cross-country team has concluded its regular season of dual meets with a record of 4 wins and 12 defeats. The team is now preparing to move into the post-season championship meets.

In their final meet on October 12, the Bears lost to Michigan City and LaPorte by scores of 25 to 36, and 24 to 35. The two top finishers for the harriers were Bob Seals and George Smith. Seals, the only undefeated runner in the conference, demolished the old course record of 10:48 by posting a time of 9:37. George Smith ran his best time in two years of competition by finishing in a time of 10:05. Smith, incidentally, has defeated the number one runner of ten of the sixteen opponents.

The other team members finished with Herb Thomas taking seventeenth with a time of 11:11; Tony Sappington, eighteenth with a time of 11:12; Art Jones took twenty-second place with a time of 11:28; and Noah Sconiers crossed the line twenty-fifth with a time of 12:09.

In the only other meet since October 5, the x-men lost to Mishawaka and Elkhart at Pinhook, the home course. The scores were Central 38, Elkhart 23; and Central 35, Mishawaka 25. Seals with a time of 9:37, destroying another record formerly held by Ron Gray of Riley, who posted it last year. The old record was a time of 9:54. George Smith took fourth with a time of 10:32, Herb Thomas crossed seventeenth with a time of 11:25, and Tony Sappington copied nineteenth in 11:35. Noah Sconiers, Charles Burnett, Larry Anderson, and Wally Sconiers also ran for Central in the meet.

The two fastest men on the team, Bob Seals and George Smith, are eagerly anticipating the highly competitive conference meet. Both can expect to place well, especially Seals, who is the fastest man in the conference. Last year Seals came in either first or second in all the major meets and placed seventeenth in the state. Smith, who has defeated the best of many of Central's opponents, also can anticipate a good showing.

BEAR FACTS

Friday, October 27, during teachers' institute, there will be a pep rally at School Field. It is to be held while the team is practicing. This is a great chance to see what the football team goes through every day to prepare for their games, but it is usually attended by only a small group of students. Students, give up a couple of hours of your precious vacation and show the team you care!

Mr. Clements has regained his status as a touch football player by resuming his favorite pastime of last fall. He has attained new heights, this time as a quarterback. Anyone interested in seeing Central's second football team may observe it at Leeper Park most weekends.

In addition to Linda Mitchell, mentioned in the last issue of the Interlude, many other students at Central are participating in karate. Dan Gramza, swimming coach John Webb, Ken Chase and Bob Anderson are among the Centralites who participate in karate. Dan Gramza, a junior, has been studying the art of karate for a long time and he has attained a fairly high ranking in this sport.

Netters Close Season

In last Friday's final tennis match against Goshen, the Central netters fought one of their toughest opponents in a losing cause. Unfortunately the tone was the same throughout the season.

In this building year, the netmen, under Coach Jim Powers, blamed quite a bit of their trouble on a lack of experience. Only two of their five starters were veterans. Co-captains Ed Kahal and Mike Richardson, led the team in points. The other three men primarily became interested in tennis over the summer. Tom Strickler, Barry Smith and Jim Garges won starting positions. Louis Lane, Chris Wilson and Stanley Palewski were B-teams.

The team's record of 0 wins and 7 losses belies their progress this year. Mike Richardson, the high-point man, won two matches in the regular season, and represented the team in the sectionals, where he also won two matches.

The team's record would have been better if it had played some of the non-conference teams, according to Ed Kahal, the team's co-captain. It is to be noted that Ed's predictions were not realized this year, because of the power of the strong conference teams.
